Dear Families,

Our last half term of the year has already proven to be a busy one. Our themes for the summer term continue. Walking around the Early Years environments lots of treasure seems to have appeared. Let's hope there aren't too many pirates about!

On Monday, we attended a briefing called Learn Equality, Live Equal. This is a project all three schools are becoming involved in to further develop Pupil voice and their understanding of relationships. We will update with more information in the coming weeks.

We have also updated our training on Attendance. There has been a significant increase in term time holidays this year in our schools which is impacting on our attendance data. Therefore, we are currently reviewing our policy in line with KWEST and recommendations from the local authority which will be relaunched with parents in September.

On Wednesday we had our termly visit from Paul Donkersloot, CEO of KWEST. As Heads of School, we meet with him fortnightly at KWEST to discuss our schools. However, it is always a pleasure when he visits as we can show him everything we have been talking about! He was very complimentary of the school and each time he visits he can see the school moving forward.

On Thursday we had a behaviour audit. This was something KWEST had commissioned within some of their schools. Chris Sweeney spent the day talking/ observing the children and adults. It was great chatting through our school, and he will provide us with a report in the coming weeks with suggestions for improvements.

We have lots of exciting things planned for this half term and look forward to sharing our learning with you.
